Counselling and networking services for LGBTI* with a migration or refugee background

Queer in Göttingen

The Queer Centre, Queer Göttingen, offers support for LGBTI* with a migration or refugee background and enables people to openly and safely talk about their experiences.

The Queer Centre seeks to support queer youth with migration backgrounds as well as people from all other groups with a migration background. "In the process of seeking information and support, queer youth with a migration background often experience multiple discrimination. This has a considerable impact on their education and development opportunities. The right to participate in education without discrimination is a human right. Schools therefore have a responsibility to actively work for the elimination of discrimination and provide discrimination-free education for all.

In this sense, the liaison teacher is the contact person for questions about coming out at school, for difficult situations at school in connection with LGBTIQ* as well as educational and awareness-raising work. The liaison teacher advises and accompanies LGBTIQ* students on campus against discrimination against queer youth at school in their free time and organises seminars and talks on LGBTQ issues in their free time.\n

More than half of queer youth experience discrimination at school, queer youth with a migration background even often experience multiple discrimination. This has a considerable impact on their educational and development opportunities. The right to education - and thus the right to participate in education without discrimination - is a human right. Schools therefore have a responsibility to actively work for the elimination of discrimination and provide discrimination-free education for all.

In this sense, the liaison teacher is the contact person for questions about coming out at school, for difficult situations at school in connection with LGBTIQ* as well as educational and awareness-raising work. The liaison teacher advises and accompanies LGBTIQ* students on campus against discrimination against queer youth at school in their free time and organises seminars and talks on LGBTQ issues in their free time.

The Queer Centre offers spaces and projects for people who want to engage in queer issues in their free time or want to inform themselves about them. We cordially invite all queer migrated and refugee people to all our offers.

Every person should be able to approach the police with the certainty that their sexual orientation or gender identity does not influence the way we carry out our duties in any way because we are aware that there can be a lack of trust in individual cases, we are there for you as LGBTI* contact person. Based on a clear professional attitude, we see ourselves as a link between the police organisation and the members of the LGBTI* community.

We can be reached at hstmpol.pol.polizei.niedersachsen.de. In urgent cases, always dial 110!
AIDS counselling centre and HIV consultation hour

The AIDS counselling centre of the public health department offers an anonymous and free HIV antibody test as well as psychosocial support for HIV-positive people and people with AIDS. We offer personal counselling and, if necessary, referrals to appropriate support services. Information materials, books, and brochures can be obtained from us as an orientation aid.

Counselling and empowerment for transgender* people and other people with questions about their gender identity

Trans*Beratung Göttingen advises young people and young people aged 14 to 27 on all questions of personal, trans/gendered, sexual identities and gender identities. These can be questions about coming out or problems at school or university, at work or with friends, or questions or uncertainties about your own gender identity. In a confidential setting, we discuss with you how things can continue and what you need right now. We also provide support through many information services, such as books, flyers, or magazine coming out, transition or sexual orientation. We do not only advise transgender* people, but also offer support for relatives, relatives, partners, or teachers who contact us, in questions about queer life. We also offer various music activities such as holiday camps, workshops, and music activities.
